

Marriage support letters often start messy.

Scattered drafts, copied language, vague claims, unclear personal knowledge.

Draft from client

Different formats · late arrival

Copied template language

Generic character letter

Vague relationship claim claim

Not personal knowledge knowledge

Unclear authorship

Who wrote what?

Case file fragments

ASN gives each person clear instructions.

The firm sets the matter frame; the applicant and witnesses see what to do next.

Firm

- Set matter frame
- Choose signing path
- Review before signing

Applicant

- Choose witnesses
- Add contact details
- Track status

Witness

- Write observations
- Avoid conclusions
- Know next steps

Clear roles before the statement is drafted.

Witnesses answer from personal knowledge.

Witnesses are guided on what to write about and what not to claim.

☐ Time spent with them at home
Daily routines, household responsibilities, visits, or other home life you personally observed.

☐ Shared plans or responsibilities
Plans, decisions, family visits, moving, work, or responsibilities you personally heard or saw them discuss.

☐ Seeing them together with friends or family
Meals, holidays, gatherings, family events, or community settings where you personally saw them together as a couple.

Specific observations, not legal conclusions

Each witness keeps a separate statement.

The firm can compare what each person actually observed.

PERSONAL OBSERVATIONS OF THE RELATIONSHIP

Witness-authored facts

Separate witness statement

Firm compares observations

Attorney judgment stays at the center.

Review, request revision, approve when ready — firm-controlled.

Attorney review queue

Demo · two witness statements · same case

Clara Johnson

Relationship statement · Needs review

Pending

Michael Turner

Relationship statement · Needs review

Pending

Review

Request revision

Approve

Timeline

Witness supplies facts.

Firm reviews readiness.
Attorney judgment stays with the firm.

No auto-approval

The firm keeps the review trail.

Who submitted, what changed, and why the statement moved forward.

Relationship statement review record

Witness input

Submitted by the witness · Personal observations

Revision trail

Timeline / revision / review record

Attorney review

What it covers · Author control · Review readiness

Internal record before signing — not an outcome guarantee.

A cleaner path before signing.

Guide applicants and witnesses. Keep statements separate. Review
Review the package before signing.

Email the pilot team

Request professional pilot access

No obligation. Pilot fit is reviewed before onboarding.