

Marriage support statements should not arrive as email chaos.

When a firm needs more than one relationship statement, ASN structures review before signing.

Two witnesses. Two separate statements. One review workflow.

Witnesses answer relationship-focused questions.

Personal observations, not legal conclusions.

- ☐ Time spent with them at home
Daily routines, household responsibilities, visits, or other home life you personally observed.
- ☐ Shared plans or responsibilities
Plans, decisions, family visits, moving, work, or responsibilities you personally heard or saw them discuss.
- ☐ Seeing them together with friends or family
Meals, holidays, gatherings, family events, or community settings where you personally saw them together as a couple.
- ☐ Care and support you personally observed
Everyday help, emotional support, illness, stress, or another moment where you personally saw one support the other.

Relationship-focused witness path

Each witness keeps a separate statement.

The firm decides how each statement fits the evidence package.

3. PERSONAL OBSERVATIONS OF THE RELATIONSHIP

The following observations are based on what I personally witnessed. [Body redacted for outreach demo.]

Relationship-focused statement

The firm reviews both statements before signing.

Review queue, good-faith record, and revision reasons in one workflow.
